

Cerner Flash

Ambulatory: New Stanson HCC Alert in Cerner

March 19, 2024

Stanson HCC Software Product in Cerner Overview

Effective Today: A new Stanson Antihyperglycemic Meds Alert for aggressive A1c goals in elderly patients will be added to Cerner. This alert will trigger as described below:

Positions Impacted: All Ambulatory Provider positions.

Alert	Details	Exclusion
Antihyperglycemic Meds Alert for aggressive A1c goals in elderly patients	Alert triggers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Upon order entry for medication orders of insulins, sulfonylureas, glinides, or glitazones for patients greater than or equal to 65 years old with a diagnosis of diabetes type 2 or unspecified, when a hemoglobin A1c lab result (POC or blood) exists in the last year and is less than 7.0.</li> </ul> The alert is suppressed: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>For patients with a diagnosis of diabetes type 1.</li> <li>If there is a hemoglobin A1c lab result (POC or blood) greater than or equal to 7.0 in the past 90 days.</li> <li>For pharmacists and technician provider types.</li> </ul>	Patient's that have had meds in the last 18 months